On Friday evening last a couple of blooming young Englishman, who appeared to be in a suppol state of infoxication, entered the Beaubier diming-room for the purpose, I suppose, of satisfying their natural requirements, but not content with this, they took it into their heads to have some fun at the expense of landlord. Their conduct, which was disgusting in the extreme, at last became unbearable, and suddenly one of them found himself in the middle of the street. His pard, who appeard to have been a pupil of the renowned Mitchell, suddenly showed light, but was soon overpowered. He said "you bludy Canadians, I can take five rounds out of the best of you for $50. The two coves at last struck west, when the puglistic one turned a couple of revolutions of the sidewalk, langing his head against the planks, while the other made a stum speech over his manuscurers. The next house they struck was the Merchants, where they entered the duning room, and there kacked up a fus over a bed, but the proprietor suddenly cut short this demonstration by giving them a bed in the middle of the street on the broad of their backs.

About a volume seaso of Poplar Point has the passenger of Poplar Point has the passenger train was coming down steadily. About a volume seaso of Poplar Point a herd of cuttle was encountered on the track. As they were noticed abe valve of the locom, sive whistle was opened and the nervous passengers were startled be the shrill, commitmous noise, which was added to by the clanging of the bell. Two of the beasts refused to leave the track and were killed, the collision throwing the locomortive off the track. The engine was tumbled over and is badly dawaged. By the promptness of Driver Frownlee in reversing the throttle and the utility of the air-backe, the traid ran a very short distance. The bag age and postal cars were also pulled off the track and tumbled over on their sides. Froman Percy was pitched into the ditch, and falling in soft mud was unhurt; but the driver was not so fortunate, as he sustained so bruises about the body and a scratch on the face. Express Messenger Baker was crushed by somebaggage. On arrival of the wrecking train the passenger chaches were run back to the Reaburn siding, and continued their journey about 1 o'clook Thursday. The train did not strive in Brandon until 6.30 the following evening.

Behind a long counter, worn smooth and greasy by many a threadbare sleeve, is a short, fat man, with a drooping mustache and small gray eyes—eyes that are like a ferretis; they never look directly at a man, but the person who stands before them knows instinctively that they have taken him in from head to foot, have shown the pawn-shop that they have taken him in from head to foot, have shown the pawn-shop phrase for it.

Bon't say any thing by way of introduction, advises a New York Tribune reporter. There is no need to say any thing. He knows that you have not come there to lend money to him. Take out your watch, say, and lay it on the shining counter.

"How much?" he sakes indifferently. He has picked it up and is looking at it contemptuously, so that you see that he does not consider it worth 87. And that watch cost you 8250, perhaps.

"Thirty-five dollars—about," hazarling a guess.

"Can't do it," shortly; "thirty."

"Very well, then, we can't make a bargain."
This gives him a one. He takes a little "coupon" and begins to write on it. "Thirty?" he asks as if there were no doubt about it.
"No."
"Thirty-two?" softly.
"Oh, no, not thirty-two."
He has finished his writing. Going to a drawer he pulls forth four bills, one five and there tees. Laying the "coupon" on them he pushes them toward you, reaching for the watch
"Wait a minute. I think! want $40."
Oh, pshaw, $40. It isn't worth $55, but Tim willing to accommedate you with thirty-five. No more."
A young man is at your side, nervously tapping the counter with a pair of opera-glasses, and the small eyes shoot swift glanese at him.
"How much?" graffly
"Five dollars,"
"Fire nothing; two."
"I got five for them last time."
"Fiftieth time I've heard that to-day. Never were here before in your life."
"Three, then," doubtfuily.
"Two." is the sharp response.
"Oh, very well." says the cowned young man in despair. "Two."
"But he is so confused that he seizes his coupon and darts through the door. leaving his $2 on the counter.

THE GREED FOR RICHES.

THE GREED FOR RICHES.

In Striving for the Luattainable Many Sacrilles Their Happiness.

Then, too, I learned this truth, writes Ed R. Pritchard in the Arkansaw Traveler, that a certain amount of this world's goods can be made to contribute to our confort, our betterment, in a thousand ways: but beyond that, while it may gratify a desire for pomp and display, for things that really arcof more benefit to us it is really more of a burden than a blessing. The getting of wealth for purposes of adding to the genuine comforts and happiness of our families, to be used in this way for the healthful, physical, intellectual and moral natvancement of those we love and labor for, is certainly one of the highest and noblest of occupations. Of course it is assumed that the processes has to obtain it are clean and honorable, and that the effort of neare moneygetting ceases whenever a reasonable competency has been secured.

Such an object can be pursued without the loss of any of those qualities that go to make up the highest type of reanhood; but the moment one gets in hoste to be rich, to heard, to pile up thousands for the mere pleasure of seeing them grow into hundreds of thousands into millions, just that soon does be been to full away from true manhood and

AN ENVOY OF PEACE.

AN ENVOY OF PEACE.

London, Oct. 8.—John Morely, speaking last night at Swindon, ridicaled the idea that because he had been a Minister he should blindfold himself to the condition of affairs in Ireland. What pleased him more than being a minister was his being an envey of peace and hope from the democracy of Ireland. Every word he had told Englishmen as to happenings in Ireland was truth, and he was glad that he had helped in the exposure of the magisterial authorities. He claimed that Magistrate Caddell's letter was a corrob-ration of his statements. After describing the distress existing in the congested districts, he suggested that a remedy was available in renewing the proposals as to the Irish lands made in 1886, and inviting the ox-operation of Irish members in pressing the measure.

LITERARY NOTE.

The New York Ledger for October 4th is a mine of interesting fact and fletion regarding the South, both the New South and the Old. It leads off with a br. liant character sketch of Henry W. Grady, journalist, orator and patroit, writen by Oliver Dyer, in which the effect on the New South of Grady's life-work is illuminously explained. A crisp-editorial on the "the marvelous revival of prosperity in the south" tell its own tale, the old south is pictured in the opening installment of a Kentucky war story, critical "reunited, the pen product of a distinguished southern other. In "For Isobel," Maurice Thompson gives a vignette of ante-bellum life in Louisiana, James Parton t Ils the story of Ceser Rodney of Delaware. An illustrated hallad by Thomas Dunn English and a story by Mrs. Amelia E. Bacr are published in the same number.

PICEZING CALEDIAN INGS.

Butland, Vt., spatial to Chicago Herald: A representative of a large shipper of Cambias Tays, is superintending the picking of about one hundred thousand desease which we wished to Cambia during the last week. The shipment was made without pickling in order to get the agrs over the border into Vermont before the McKinley tariff bill took effect. The representative says that serval hundred thousand dozsans of eggs have been shipped to the United States within a fortnight for pickling for the same reason. He says it will have the double effect of largely increasing the price of orges to the consumer in this country, and will drive the Canadian farmers into cheese-making, eithese with which they will compete in foreign markets.

BRITISH FARM DELEGATES.

BRITISM FARM DELEGATES.

The British farm delegates visited the agricultural fair as Regina yeaserday, having returned from Prince Albert the previous evening. All the members capress themselves as delighted with the country to the north, notwithstanding that during their visit to Prince Albert wan fell most of the time. N. F. Davin, M. P., accompanied them from here. The citizens of the town at the forks of the Saskatchewan did everything possible to entertain the delegates, and collected a quantity of grain, vegetables, minerals, etc., in a building, that the legates might carry away a favorable opinion of the productiveness of the country. Major Knowles and members of the country Major Knowles and members of the country and citizens generally were opinion of the productiveness of the country. Major Knowles and members of the country. Major Knowles and members of the country in the country of the council and citizens generally were very attentive to the representatives of British farmers. On the return tip a step was made at Duck Lake, where Mr. Mitchell, local manager for Stobart & Son, did the honors and drove the delegation some miles into the country. A second stop was made at Saskatoon, and here Mr. Copsland, agent of the Temperance colony, had made arrangements for dinner and viewing the products of surrounding farms. The delegates were rutertained by the council of Regina last hight, and are enroute to Calgary to day, where they will be banquetted to-morrow and inspect the fair.

MMORALITY IN QUEBEC.

Quebe, Oct. 8.—The Rev. Father De Cary, cure of the French Canadian parish of St. Henri, near Montreal, has created agenine sensation throughout the province by his exposure of the alleged immorally of people. "In occuraty of the world," said the reverred father, "Save in France, are such disorders and excesses practiced and tolerated as in the province of Quebec.

"In the upper circles of Canadian so city three is to say to say the least, much indiscretion on the part of wives and mothers of families, and it is becoming notable both in Montreal and Quebec, that there are married ladies whe receive a larger shace of attention from youthful admitrers than their younger and unmarried sisters and friends.

"Among the lower classes the evil is much more extensive, principally among factory girls and domestic servants. In the city of Montreal alone, with a population of 20,000, there are over 70 leensed grogoriers and other disorders, and the life of 1890. T. R. Toold, W. Heiffer 1, years old-12 and 2 R. Laug, 3 J. Des Momes, Iowa, Oct. S.—News has reached this city of a sensation at Bedford, Iowa, which has caused a great deal of excitement in thal little city. Wedy Brown, a young and rather good looking minister, went to Besiford about a year ago to take charge of the Christian church. He was a graduate of an estern college and was highly recommended. He hardly located until his attentions to the young lady members of his fock caused comment, but it was not until the past work when the commended.

THURSIAN AFTERNOON.

The session was called to order at 2:30.
Mr. F. S. Andrews, Principal of the Carberry Intermediate school, read a paper on Frinary Antihuctic, which was very suggestive and of great interest to all, the stated the reasons for teaching arithmetic as (1) to make the child accurate and speedly in calculation, (2) to train his reasoning powers and (3) to train his reasoning power and (3 power of influencing.

Mr. Best the southern Inspector is of the opinion that there should be an essociation with the same and the coast of Mr. Best the southern Inspector is of the opinion that there should be an essociation where way, which held the attention of all present. The teacher with her pupils took an imaginary trip around the coast of Newtoundhand conversing pleasandly about the interesting facts in connection with the baye, cities and capes.

Mr. S. E. Lang was then called upon for his paper on "The Western-Pass and future." He spake of the progress of the Association has been in connection with the actual work of the school-room, and the time has come when there should be a change in the aims and methods of the school-room, and the time has come when there should be a change in the aims and methods of the search and gatherings. There is practically little value in meeting here to discuss how to teach subjects which are the search of the same and an effect of the wastern teachers whether he is a point about the association, six that it is well trapested without the facts of the same and an effect of the wastern teachers whether he is a point about the average ability. We should be a change in the aims and methods of the same and an effect of the same and an e discussion of this paper was deferred until after the reading of Mr. D. Melntyre's paper on classification.

The President called upon Mr. C. Cliffe, of Brandon, far an address. Mr. Cliffe, of Brandon, far an address. Mr. Cliffe, spake briefly owing to the lateness of the hour. In his speech he advocated the raising of teacher's salaries according to the leating that the above report be adopted, which was carried.

A vote of thanks was tendered to Miss. Day also to the people and trastees of Brandon, for the way they exerted them to the length of time speech he advocated the raising of teacher's salaries according to the length of time speech as decreased that the salaries according to the length of time speech as decreased that the salaries according to the length of time speech as decreased that the salaries according to the length of time speech as decreased the raising of the training officers and to the lady selected of the training officers and to the lady because of not. He hoped at some future time be might bear an opportunity of addressing the bady more portable with the salaries according to the length of the speech of the speech of the salaries according to the length of the speech of the salaries according to the length of the speech as decreased the raising officers and to the lady because of the salaries according to the salaries acco
